

Person-centred goal setting

People are more likely to achieve positive outcomes if goals are created through authentic cooperation with them, rather than imposed on them. Follow the six steps to support the people you work with to set meaningful and achievable goals.

